SEASONAL HIGHLIGHTS

SPRING – Spring beauty, hepatica, bloodroot, Dutchman’s breeches, squirrel corn, trout lily, trillium, and wild phlox are just some of the showy, native wildflowers that welcome spring at the park, beginning in early April. Look and listen for migrating and nesting birds.

SUMMER – Look for partridgeberry, shinleaf, Indian pipe, beechdrops, and butterflies. Wade in Rathburn Run to look for minnows and gently turn over rocks to discover creek critters (please leave them in the creek). Observe changes in Rathburn Run after a rain storm. Have a picnic at one of two large-timbered pavilions.

AUTUMN – Enjoy fall colors, kick the leaves while hiking and find various kinds of acorns and hickory nuts. In addition to magnificent oak and maple trees, identify trees such as yellow birch and large-toothed aspen, northern species that remain following the retreat of the last glacier.

WINTER – A special time to see the park is on a snowy day. With leaves off the trees, greater distances can be viewed. Look down at Rathburn Run from the Ledge, enjoy the geologic features, the snowy branches and icy waters of Rathburn Run.

Maps of the park are available at the Silver Road park entrance or the Community Center. For questions about the park or Friends of Wooster Memorial Park, contact Wooster Parks and Recreation at the Community Center, 241 South Bever Street, 330-263-5207.

WOOSTER MEMORIAL

PARK

With over five miles of winding foot trails, Wooster Memorial Park is known for its beautiful trees, steep ravines, rich spring flora and scenic Rathburn Run. (During periods of high water, Rathburn Run may not be crossable.) This primitive park is located at the intersection of Jefferson and Silver roads, west of Wooster, off SR250.

Friends of Wooster Memorial Park is a volunteer community group dedicated to the preservation and enjoyment of this local, natural treasure.
